

Board Profiles

Monique Risha

Monique has extensive knowledge of the interworking of the court system gained from working in the justice system for more than 20 years, and has taught for more than ten years in various programs within the School of Justice and Emergency Services as a part-time professor at Durham College. Monique was born and raised in Peterborough, Ontario.